Tickling in the Throat

"Just a little tickling in the throat!" Is that what troubles you? But it hangs on! Can't get rid of it! Home remedies don't take hold. You need something stronger—a regular medicine, a doctor's medicine. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral contains healing, quieting, and soothing properties of the highest order. Ask your doctor about this. No alcohol in this cough medicine. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Constipation positively prevents good health. Then why allow it to continue? An active liver is a great preventive of disease. Ayer's Pills are liver pills. What does your doctor say?

MATTING.

THE LEGISLATURE

Delegate Clements, of Pittsylvania, got warm and made a speech in which he declares his independence of the clergy and their efforts to legislate men into being good. He declared that if the Christian religion, which these men were supposed to teach, did not have the desired effect on men the General Assembly would never be able to do so by statutory enactment. He said he was tired of this scheme and his backers from Gov. Mann down and delivered a broadside into the ministers who have forsaken their high calling to engage in furthering matters before the General Assembly.

The Senate concurred in the House resolution which proposes an amendment to Section 117, Article 8, which allows the cities of the first class to change from councilmanic to commission form of government. Senator Hart, of Louisa, and three Republicans voted against the amendment. It was adopted.

The House took up the Byrd bill regulating the liquor traffic and adopted several sections of the measure. The most essential was that which prohibits the sale of near beer in the dry sections of the State.

THEY GOT THEIR LICENSE

It Was Neither Dog or Hog—New York Couple Wedded Here.

Officer Tansill was sitting in his accustomed place in the Mayor's office Monday at noon reading a newspaper, when a well-dressed couple entered and approaching the officer said: "We desire a license." Officer Tansill replied, "What sort of dog or hog or pig or hog do you want?" The gentleman became indignant and in a belligerent manner made for him. Tansill realizing that he had made a mistake said: "I beg your pardon, you want a marriage license," and escorted them to the Clerk's office, where Clerk A. B. Yates issued a license. They gave their names as Mr. Joseph F. Flaherty, 24 years, and Miss Evelyn Nalley, 21 years, of New York. They wanted to be married by Father Perrig and Clerk Yates went with them to his home. Father Perrig declined to marry them because they did not have the proper credentials. They went to the pastor in New York. They would not be married by the pastor of a Protestant church and Evangelist Geo. A. Mills tied the knot. They are a prepossessing couple. Their friends supported them to be in Philadelphia visiting. They were very careful to get a certificate of marriage and went to Washington on the 1:25 train and will spend several days there.

EAST CHATHAM DAIRY

Buy Golden Crestmont $22.16.

Messrs. Mays and Goldsmith, with a view of still further improving their fine Jersey herd at East Chatham, have purchased from Allendale Farm the pure bred registered young bull Golden Crestmont $22.16, who has been considered by expert judges as being one of the best and handiest bulls in the well known Allendale herd, and who was one of the winners at the Virginia State Fair last fall. Golden Crestmont $22.16 belongs to the St. Lambert branch of the Jersey family, a branch that has won pre-eminence because of its superior dairy qualities. He has three close up crosses to Stock Fogs of Prospect 2912, sire of 69 tested daughters, and blue ribbon winner at the Chicago Exposition. He also traces three times to the great dairy cow Ida Maryland $28.150, buter test first prize, 21-2 oz. in 7 days, who was first prize cow at the Chicago Exposition, and is also the dam of two daughters with large butter tests.

It is proposed to make the East Chatham Dairy one of the finest in the State and good judgment has been evidenced in the selection of Golden Crestmont as the head of the herd.

STILL PROTESTING

Richmond, Va., Feb. 26th, 1910. To The Free Lance:

I desire to enter my protest with the many others in regard to the Masonic lodge of your city proposing to desecrate the historic cemetery located in Fredericksburg.

I understand of the committee of twelve, who are bent on carrying through this act of desecration, that they have moved to Fredericksburg within recent years, two are sons of a man from the North, and the remaining two are only really identified with Fredericksburg.

Aside from all sentimental and legal aspects, considering only justice due the dead, can the good old people of Fredericksburg allow these graves to be touched? If so, God pity the people who have to be buried in Fredericksburg.

Respectfully,
(Where you rest in peace.)
Hollywood.

OPERATION

Miss Ruth Embrey, daughter of Mr. Bowen Embrey, of Mine Road, Spotsylvania county, was operated on Monday at M. W. Hospital by Dr. W. A. Harris, of Spotsylvania, and Dr. J. N. Barney. Her condition is serious.

WHAT EVERY WOMANLY WOMAN WANTS

One of the fondest desire of millions of women is to be beautiful hair.

This desire can be gratified without the slightest risk, for druggists everywhere, and Goodrich's Pharmacy, sell a hair tonic called Parisian Sage for 50 cents, that will turn dull, lifeless, unattractive hair into lustrous and money back.

Put the name on your shopping list right now, and be sure and get the genuine. Every package has the girl with the Auburn hair upon it.

Since its introduction in America, Parisian Sage has won unstinted praise from women of refinement who have learned what a delightful and refreshing hair tonic and dressing Parisian Sage is.

Just because the makers are absolutely certain that Parisian Sage is the only preparation that kills the pernicious dandruff microbes, they are willing to guarantee it to banish dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp, or money back.

TRIP THROUGH ORANGE

The County Abounds in Rich Mineral Ores.

Lahore, Va., Feb. 28, 1910.

To The Free Lance:

Having made a trip through the county of Orange recently and having seen much to interest me, I thought I would write an article for The Free Lance, giving an account of what I saw and heard. The gold mine fever is again on and from what I heard is on to stay. I met a gentleman who holds an important position at the Vancluse mine in the county who told me they were stripping the surface and washing the dirt, from which they are getting satisfactory results and that they are expecting to put up stamp mills soon to work the rock, which promises even better results than the surface washing. He also said the old Greenwood mine is being worked in the same way and the results satisfactory to the owners who recently purchased same, and this, too, will soon erect up-to-date machinery for the extraction of the gold from the rock, which the assays show to be very rich. Hurrah for old Virginia! But this is not all. A strong company of gentlemen from the North and West have prospected and bought the old Tellurium mines of Fluvanna county, once worked by Commodore Stockton before the war. They are preparing to erect an up-to-date plant to mine according to the most improved methods. I am informed that they will commence work at the assurance of faith.

Virginia has had a black eye ever since the war, given to her by Commodore Stockton, who did it through prejudice to the Southern people whom he hated because they owned slaves. He went away from Virginia with a million dollars he had made out of the mines he worked in three counties, viz: Fluvanna, Louisa and Spotsylvania. He never sent here to California, where he made another million.

Five years from now Virginia will be the greatest State in the Union, and would have been in the front rank long ago but for the misrepresentations of mines by men who were sent here by capitalists to do the work.

There are a great many places along the gold belt in Virginia where the gold can be seen in a short time after getting on the ground. All you need to find it is a hoe and a pan, and the yellow metal will be seen at the bottom of the pan after washing a short while.

Why will men go West and work there that only assays from $5.00 to $8.00 to the ton? Most of the gold mining here has been superficial, in fact all of it has been merely surface work, but we are glad to see the tide is turning this way, and ere long they will be coming in streams.

We are glad to know that those who are now working here are experts and have been in the mining business all of their lives. These are men we want to come here to develop old Virginia, and every kind. Some coal oil will be discovered here soon, as we see the signs. When old Virginia shall have shaken off her lethargy and comes to herself in the development of her natural resources she will blossom as a rose and will rank with the richest States in the Union.

Let us all make one united, constant effort to develop our grand old State and let us not listen to the croakers, who are enemies to all progress. There is a store for Virginia a grand future; all she has to do is to get to work and compel things to move and success will follow with directness.

If we can't develop these mines ourselves let some one who has the capital and the grit go to it with a vim, and when the capital comes to buy, do not drive them away by asking for three times as much as the property is worth. What we want is money and true grit and things will move along. We have gold, iron, silver, lead, pyrites, asbestos, soapstone and many other things in the metals, and a soil and climate equal to any in the United States.

We could invite our Northern and Western brethren and sisters to at least come and look around at the prospects which are open to come; we will treat you kindly and honestly.

One night of this trip my wife and I had a happy time to rest my weary bones at the hospitable home of my old friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Sullivan, who seemed to me to be carrying through this act of desecration, that they have moved to Fredericksburg within recent years, two are sons of a man from the North, and the remaining two are only really identified with Fredericksburg.

Aside from all sentimental and legal aspects, considering only justice due the dead, can the good old people of Fredericksburg allow these graves to be touched? If so, God pity the people who have to be buried in Fredericksburg.
